The Navigation Beige Cordless Table Lamp has a modern stacked form topped with a white opaque globe. Geometrically rich, the portable lamp with a rechargeable bulb has a travertine disc, which holds the globe, that is raised on slant atop a plinth of the same material. It will be an instant conversation starter when used as an illuminated decorative element in a vignette, as it will become a powerful focal point. Because travertine is a natural material, subtle variations are inherent to each piece.
